U 526-02

A detailed technical drawing or form, likely a blueprint or a technical specification. It contains various fields, tables, and diagrams. The top section has a title 'U 526' and some illegible text. Below this, there are several tables with columns and rows, some containing numbers and some containing text. There are also diagrams showing lines and arrows connecting different parts of the form. The bottom section has a large empty space for notes or additional information.
